

Brian Ritchie

For the past twenty years, Brian Ritchie has served as a coach and advisor for student groups and business leaders across the United States. A high energy presenter, Brian specializes on sharing valuable insights into teambuilding, positive thinking, and organizational development.

His real world experience as a corporate manager and a non-profit administrator provide a variety of experiences and stories that make learning fun. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Public Relations and a Masters Degree in Organizational Communication. In addition to his focus on building teams and people, Brian is dedicated to helping his community. He is a Kiwanian, and is active with his church. Brian resides in Wooster, Ohio with his three wonderful children Jack, Brooke, and Alex.