

Chris Niles

Chris is excited to return to the Key Leader family after a few years on hiatus. Chris started his relationship with Kiwanis International 20 years ago when he was at Indiana University's Bradford Woods . He designed and facilitated international level programming for both Key Club and Circle K before joining the ranks with Key Leader.

Chris has built a career around leadership education and program development, working primarily in higher education along with consulting and training in the corporate arena. With a background in experiential programming and a passion for creativity, Chris has designed and delivered a wide range of innovative programs ranging from stand-alone workshops and intensive retreats to semester-long courses.

Chris has worked on both large and small campuses and has served as a Director of First-Year Programs, an Assistant Dean of Academic Services, and, more recently, as an MBA Director. He now works in alumni engagement for his fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Chris completed his undergraduate degree in business at the University of Vermont and a graduate degree in Student Affairs at Indiana University. He lives in Carlisle, PA with his wife, Stefanie, and their two children, Parker and Alexa.
